Introduction

The Lincolnshire Faith Directory, compiled and put together by the Lincolnshire Faith Council in 2021. A directory with contacts for all faiths in Lincolnshire. This is a resource or interfaith initiatives, contact and dialogue. It is also a great resource for the public and public services including the Police, NHS, Councils, schools etc. This Directory is available in PDF version on the Lincolnshire Faith Council (LFC) page of The Centre for Reconciliation (TCfR) website – tcf-reconciliation.org/lfc.

This Directory was compiled with thanks to Ruth Subash, TCfR Development Officer and Secretary for TCfR and LFC. She contacted all faiths within Lincolnshire to find their contact details and to ensure they are correct. Lincolnshire Faith Council (LFC) is part of The Centre for Reconciliation (TCfR). TCfR is an interfaith organisation that works to bring different religious and cultural communities together. LFC was established as a way to unify faith communities in the county of Lincolnshire.

LFC is a committee made up of representatives from all faiths throughout Lincolnshire. LFC formalise work already happening, connects all faiths in the county, has formal links with educational and civic institutions and works across the county and not just individually in separate towns and cities.

<https://tcf-reconciliation.org/>

Cooperation and dialogue between faiths is needed now more than ever – helping faith communities move away from suspicious attitudes of each other, spoiling possible relationships to fostering a mutual respect for each other. Starting with the council members learning from each other, becoming friends and attending each other's festivals and feeling welcomed and part of the celebrations.

LFC will work with and among faith and ethnic minority communities. Such communities are increasing in cities and towns across Lincolnshire and there is a demand for places of worship, be that from those who have made a permanent home here, migrant workers or students here for a few years. Working at a faith community level as well as at the same time working with faith community leaders. Exploring ways of encouraging people to build cohesive, peaceful communities and this is important in a time when there is so much ignorance, misunderstanding and fear leading to hate crimes.

It is important to have a religious voice of conviction and an increased religious visibility on the streets of Lincolnshire. Through this promoting community cohesion, inter-cultural leadership, school support and interfaith dialogue. New challenges will always arise and LFC will need to be ready for them to.....

Inclusion in the Directory does not necessarily indicate an affiliation or agreement with the aims and objectives of LFC and TCfR or vice versa. Information in the Directory was provided by each faith or denomination in response to a request from Ruth Subash on behalf of the LFC. Where information was not provided then an entry was compiled using information generally available on public spaces. If you would like your faith or denomination is not already included on the to be included in the Lincolnshire Faith Directory please email enquires@tcf-reconciliation.org.

Information was provided by each faith, community or tradition in response to a request from this directory's Editorial Group. Where information was not provided then an entry was compiled using information generally available in public places.

We will endeavour to try our best to ensure all information included in the Directory is correct and up to date. Apologies if some of the contact details are not up to date and if you find this is the case please email on the above email address.

Sōtō Zen Buddhism

Sōtō is known as the 'Meditation School' of Buddhism.

The Treeleaf Sangha was created because Zen Master - Jundo Cohen - wished to provide an online community for people who were too ill, or lived too far away from a temple, to visit in person. Our Zendo is in Tsukuba, Japan. There are lots of online meetings, meditation, chanting, talks and ceremonies every week.
